

If it ain't broke, don't fix it. Why attempt to ruin a dependable worthwhile service. There is enough available for all broadcasters. NAB has nothing on its networks that can touch XM's services. Leave well enough alone..